Another Peek at 'Oilygate'

We may never get the full story on the "Oilygate" mess. "The 'Watergate' affair is the bastard child of a single political party. But both parties are involved in the oil seduction that produced the so-called energy crisis.

Let us first acknowledge that if the earth was a holding tank for crude oil, somewhere in the far distant future it would run dry if we keep using it in a profligate manner.

Every poll we've studied shows that the public believes that Big Oil is bilking them. The public is right. Were it not so one of the political parties would roundly condemn the other regarding the past and present manner in which government coddles the giant oil monopoly.

A story moved last week over Association Press wires reporting that "Oil state congressmen won a major tax victory . . . as the House Ways and Means Committee decided to reduce the impact of a proposal that would phase out the oil depletion allowance."

For those who have not taken the trouble to investigate, oil depletion allowance provides that oil firms may deduct 22 per cent of their gross income to 50 per cent of their taxable income to compensate them for withdrawing natural resources which cannot last forever and which belong to us—not them.

It is suspected that the idea came from the income tax theory by which the Internal Revenue Service is empowered to take as much of your income at the government needs. Much of the government's income is used for foreign aid. A lot goes to developing nations—nations that need more and more as they grow stronger and braver. They even keep on getting our help after they start working against our best interests. In this respect Big Oil has been given the "developing nation" treatment and are repaying the aid in "developing nation" bad faith.

Big Oil, soon after the Arab embargo, boasted that Americans would soon be paying a dollar a gallon for gasoline. They have closed the gap considerably since then. That is odd in light of their original announcement that Mid-East oil represented of 15 per cent of their source. But the crunch was on! Obedience-silly citizens, spurred by the patriotic fervor that accompanies each national crisis, cut down their driving more than 15 per cent. They strictly obeyed the order of the 55 miles an hour speed limit that would also cut consumption another 15 per cent. Some over-zealous patriots even torched off their Cads, Mark 4's and other exotic makes that consumed about a gallon of fuel every 9 or 10 miles, and sacrificed their fire insurance pay off for small, less comfortable makes that burn only (according to the advertisements) less than half that amount. Those who have the idea of doing likewise should be aware that insurance firms are investigating car fires so thoroughly that it will hardly pay them to commit arson any more.

Meanwhile, Oil is counteracting some of the rising resentment with an oil version of the CIA. A cable story tells of an Exxon executive who was cited in Italy for bribing officials there to announce that an Italian gas shortage existed when none did.

There are recurring rumors that all of Oil's storage tanks are near running over (even before the Arabs agreed to lift the embargo) and that tankers are off shore in the Atlantic waiting for available tank storage.

A covert operation, perhaps no smarter than the "Plumbers" of the Nixon administration, turned up in San Diego recently.

San Diego's District Attorney, Ed Miller, is investigating reports that an effort to enforce gasoline vapor recovery laws had been sabotaged by persons unknown. It was reported that vapor control devices, being tested at five stations had been tampered with. Then tests then indicated that the devices didn't reduce pollutants. The vapor recovery devices had been tested earlier in the week and had been working perfectly. Last week they were malfunctioning. Someone had opened the locked control units and tampered with the control valves. Who do you suppose ordered that to be done?

Meanwhile, financial reports of major oil firms show that record profits are being made. Several of these reports have been published in this column.

A few days ago when communiques for the Mid-East indicated that Arab oil-producing states was about to lift its embargo, the Western Oil and Gas Association sent the media a communique of its own.

Harry Morrison, vice president and general manager of WO&GA said " . . . users of gasoline and other products should be under no illusion that it (the lifted embargo) will end these (energy shortage) problems or even diminish them in large measure.

"The short term effect of resumed shipments will be nil, since . . . it takes 45 days for tankerships to reach American ports.

"The longer-term effect will be tempered by the fact that imports . . . cannot be usefully increased beyond the limits of American refineries to process additional supplies. The net effect will be only a partial increase in available supplies . . ."

How strange!
It was Oil who said the Arab embargo caused the shortage and increased the price of gasoline more than 100 per cent as a result.

Will the shortage end only at the dollar-a-gallon level?
Not all lawmakers are locked in with Big Oil. Senate President James R. Mills, of San Diego, who is also Senate president pro tempore, is pushing for a law that has a double thrust.

In one direction he asks that Big Oil in California be divested of their retail outlets. To a degree the monopoly would be busted by making the retailer more competitive which, in turn, would create competition among the Big Oil members, it was said.

The other, an equally important thrust, is an initiative sponsored by Mills on the November ballot which would put oil companies under control of the State Public Utilities Commission.

For a nation that already has more government than it can afford, it is unfortunate that Big Oil has become so brazen that the public requires the government to save it from an industry that has made it rich under free enterprise, and has now turned a monopolistic predator.

And before the typewriter lid is closed, another warning. Grain, with a market probing test of its own, recently announced, that a dollar-a-loaf bread is in the breadwinners' future. Sale of wheat to Russia was given as the rationale.

Who's for a new agency—The Market Basket Utilities Commission?

Chargers Defensive End Pete Lazetich will star April 6 at the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce Installation banquet.

CoC Drafts Lazetich for Banquet

You'll pay as much as $8.50 to see him in action on the Stadium gridiron this fall, but you can see him free, in Lemon Grove, on April 6—if you have a ticket to the Chamber of Commerce's annual Installation banquet.

The "Big Attraction" is a star football player of the Chargers—Pete Lazetich by name. He's 245 on a 6-3 frame and he's the Chargers defensive end.

He had an outstanding season with the team last year as linebacker. Late in the season he was switched to defensive end—a position he started at for Stanford where he played in Rose Bowl victories over Michigan and Ohio State. He coined the name "Thunderchickens for the Stanford defensive line—a name that caught on.

Drafted number 2 in 1972 he was on the first team Football News, UPI, and Sporting News All-America; AP and UPI All Coast; All-PAC 8, and second team NEA All-America and AP honorable mention All-America.

Charger Coach Tommy Prothro said that Lazetich "is terribly important to our team. Our future is built around players like him."

Lazetich and the Chamber's annual dinner will be at the VFW Hall, 2885 Imperial ave., in Lemon Grove. The affair starts with a cocktail hour at 6:30. Dinner will be catered by Jac's of Lemon Grove and the menu includes three salads, baked ham, baked beans, vegetable, dessert and beverage.

Entertainment for the evening will be provided by two country-western groups, the Gully Jumpers and the Anderson Twins, and a saxophone quartet from Mt. Mi-ball News, UPI, and Sporting News All-America; AP and UPI All Coast; All-PAC 8, and second team NEA All-America and AP honorable mention All-America.

The plan, worked out with the planning department staff and local committees, is designed to establish a pattern for land use in future years. The county general plan must be changed to conform with approved community plans.

Later, a hearing will be held in the parking lot of St. John

Free Lunch Limits Outlined by Schools

The Lemon Grove School District announced a revised orally or in writing to James I. Justeson, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction and able to pay the full price of meals served in schools under the National School Lunch Program.

Lemon Grove school officials have adopted a family size-income criteria to determine eligibility. For example a family of one that has a monthly gross income of less than $288 is eligible for a free luncheon. A family of eight with an income of less than $893, is also eligible. Families of one whose monthly income ranges from $229 to $319, are eligible for a reduced price meal. A family of eight with a gross monthly income of $893 to $970 is also eligible. Other family sizes and incomes are arranged between the figures mentioned above.

In addition, those families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has such children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provision of the policy the school principal will review applications and determine eligibility.

If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to James I. Justeson, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction and able to pay the full price of meals served in schools under the National School Lunch Program.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the District Superintendent at the Lemon Grove Education Center where it may be reviewed by any interested party.

He devised the group's motto: "when in charge, ponder . . . when in trouble, delegate . . . when in doubt, mumble . . ." and is author of the best-selling book "When in Doubt Mumble."

Stop-and-Go Project Gets Planners OK

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—A Lemon Grove builder, Jack Duncan, denied a building permit because the law changed when he was mid-way in his project, won approval for construction of 64-unit apartment house Friday from the County Planning Commission.

Jack Duncan, represented by Richard A. Gant, an attorney.

The property is the southwest corner of Pacific and Olive in Lemon Grove and is zoned for light commercial uses.

Duncan had applied for a permit in February 1973 but was held up until the soil compacted that was approved.

By then the county's zoning ordinance had been changed to require a special use permit for apartments in commercial areas.

"He just got caught in the transition period," said Hal Mattly, a planning aide.

Small Fire Does Little Damage At LG Inn Spot

A passing motorist was able to extinguish a car fire before firemen arrived at the scene Sunday night. The car's owner Carol Wahlen of San Diego blamed the blaze on a leaking fuel line. Damage was estimated at $25.

The Inn Spot, a nudie bar, located at 8250 Broadway ave., suffered little damage when a trash dumpster caught fire behind the building Saturday night. The flames did scorch a nearby tree, the Lemon Grove Fire Department said.

Emergency crews gave aid to Nadene Craig who stopped at the fire station Sunday. She complained of feeling ill and was given oxygen and an ambulance was called.

In all, the Lemon Grove Fire Department responded to two fire calls and two first aid calls for the week of March 11-18.

Subdivision OK'd With Conditions

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—A revised development map for a five and a half acre Spring Valley subdivision was approved Friday by the County Planning Commission.

Saratoga Development Corp. submitted the map for its 74 lots Las Palmas Estates west of Sweetwater rd., between Tyler and Ildica sts.

Conditions included removal of a street that would be in the way of a freeway, and a deposit of $5,000 for parks for the project.

CALTRANS Files For $75 Million

The California Department of Transportation (CALTRANS) recently filed suit in Federal District Court for the release of Highway Trust Funds impounded by the federal government.

CALTRANS estimated that the amounts impounded by the Federal Highway Administration could be as much as $75 million, based on comparisons between the money authorized by Congress and early reports of spending authority to be made available by the highway administration.

CALTRANS said that its suit was based on the language of Federal Aid to Highway Acts which directed the government to release the funds to the states six months before the start of the fiscal year for which they are designated in the federal budget.

If the suit is successful, it could mean the release of the $75 million to the state's transportation department, which has announced that the energy crisis is crippling its ability to finance further highway building. It would also mean that CALTRANS will get the total of $390 million as much as a year before it is expected with current federal practices.

SV Church of Nazarene Outlines Expansion Plan

Plans for the second and third phases of the Expansion Program of the Spring Valley Church of the Nazarene were made public this week. The major expansion project will be the construction of a 375-seat sanctuary adjacent to the present church facilities. This project, which is expected to cost $130,000, was developed by Richard Conklin, A.I.A., of Los Alamitos, approved by the church board, and ratified by the membership during phase one of this program.

Phase Two of the expansion program concerns finalization of financial arrangements to defray the cost of the major project. A combination plan has been adopted, in which a $565,000 Church Building Note issue, coupled with a bank loan in the amount of $65,000 will be utilized. For the Church Building Note issue, the church is using California Plan of Church Finance, used extensively throughout the state. In the past 20 years, thousands of churches of many denominations have financed building programs through the California Plan.

Fundamentally, the California Plan is a simple variation of municipal finance in which the church sells 8% interest bearing notes to its members and friends. The organization for selling the notes will be directed by the General Chairman, Bob Walker, and calls for three committees to be headed by the following chairmen: Sales, Chuck Ivey; Arrangements, Chuck and Claire Graham; Publicity, Burdella Downing.

The drive for the sale of Church Building Notes will commence with a special event scheduled for 7 p.m., March 22nd at the Spring Valley Elementary School; this event, appropriately entitled "the blast-off", will feature a special musical group, an informative presentation concerning the note issue, and a period of fellowship and participation by all attendees.

The commencement of Phase Three is scheduled for 10:45 a.m., March 31st; at this time Dr. Nicholas A. Hull, Superintendent of the Southern California District of the Church of the Nazarene will preside at ground-breaking ceremonies. Construction will commence a short time thereafter, under the supervision of Brad Harrison, General Contractor, of Whittier, California.

Spring Valley Church of the Nazarene was initially chartered at its present location in May of 1954; the land was donated by the University Avenue Church of the Nazarene of San Diego. Chartered members who are still active participants and spiritual leaders in the church are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Osborn and Mrs. Beth Ivey.

Membership of the Spring Valley Church now stands at 164, with an average attendance of 176 and a Sunday School enrollment at 278.

Pastor Ivan Kounter, minister of the church had this to say about the expansion plans: "God is moving in our church family; our people have really caught the vision of the necessity of meeting the needs of our generation. We invite you to join with us... by investing in a 'Going Church' in a dynamic community."

This Week's RECIPE

READERS — This week we are starting a new feature, "This Week's Recipe". The energy crisis and the high cost of food has resulted in a return to the kitchen. Now is the time to take advantage of these "favorite" recipes. You are invited to send in that special recipe to share with your Lemon Grove neighbors and friends. Please send them to us at Lemon Grove Review or Spring Valley Bulletin, Box 127, LG or bring them by the office. Be sure to include your name, address and phone number. Our first recipe is offered by our shop foreman Barbara Husband . . . M.M.

Texas Pecan Cake

2 cups butter (1 lb.)
2 cups sugar
6 eggs
1 bottle of lemon extract (2-oz.)
4 cups flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
4 cups pecans
2 cups white raisins
red and green preserved cherries

Preheat your oven to 275. Cream together the butter and the sugar. Beat the eggs well and add them to the butter-sugar combination. Add your lemon extract and set aside. Sift together the baking powder and flour, mix in the raisins, cherries and nuts. Combine the flour mixture with the creamed butter and blend thoroughly. Pour mixture into a well greased tube pan and bake for two hours. This is a rich cake and Barbara suggests you slice it thinly.

Mills' Transit Plan Study Gets Backing From Assembly

SACRAMENTO — A legislative proposal requesting the State Department of Transportation to evaluate the forthcoming transit plans of the Southern California Rapid Transit District and the Orange County Transit District has been introduced.

The request was made last week of the Department in identical resolutions introduced in the Senate and the Assembly.

Senator James R. Mills (D-San Diego), President pro Tempore of the Senate, introduced the Senate resolution. The companion measure was introduced in the Assembly by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty (D-Los Angeles), Chairman of the Assembly Transportation Committee's Subcommittee on Regional Transportation in Los Angeles.

"Proposals are being developed to spend several billion dollars in Los Angeles and Orange Counties for mass transit. It is, therefore, important for the Legislature and the people to know that the goals of the plans are achievable," Mills and Sieroty said in explaining the purpose of the resolutions.

"The information we're requesting on the cost effectiveness, goals, reasonableness of route alignment and station location and compatibility between the systems reflects the questions raised by many witnesses at hearings held by my Subcommittee during the past interim," Sieroty said.

Both transit districts are in the final phases of developing transit plans and financial programs for implementing the plans. The plans discussed to date would cost more than $7 billion. Voters of Los Angeles and Orange counties may be asked to approve separate proposals this November.

The resolutions direct the Department to report its findings to the Legislature by the end of May. Mills and Sieroty acknowledged this is an ambitious schedule, but said that "it is consistent with the review process that local governments in the Los Angeles area have established for themselves."

The Department of Transportation was created last year. Its principal task is to develop a long-range transportation plan for California.

"This is the first time the Department has had the opportunity to deal with an issue of this magnitude, and we will anxiously await the results," Mills and Sieroty concluded.

Crain Lambasts Bob Wilson's Postal Use

Mel Crain, a political science professor and Democratic candidate for Congress accused Rep. Bob Wilson (R-San Diego) of lying and attempted cover-up of a federal law violation.

Crain also called upon the U. S. Attorney and Federal grand jury to investigate for possible criminal charges.

The U. S. District Court in San Diego recently found that Wilson had "misused" $36,352.96 of free postage by sending out a half-million pieces of campaign literature, at first-class rates.

"To claim, as Wilson does, that 'everybody does it' and that misappropriation of $36,000 is only a 'technical violation' of the law," said Crain, "is to reflect Wilson's basic Watergate mentality."

To Wilson's assertion that his violation has since been legalized by 1973 legislation, Crain responded: "It's untrue, and he knows it."

"Can you imagine what would happen to you or me if we diverted 454,000 government 'official business only' envelopes to our personal use?" Crain asked.

Crain said that whatever legal recourse might avail, Wilson has "a political and moral obligation" to pay back the money to the taxpayers. To that end, Crain has organized an extensive grass roots petition campaign demanding Wilson fully reimburse the taxpayers.

Q. Is it true that transportation expenses to get medical care or to render services for a charitable organization are deductible?

A. Yes. If you drive your car (or take a bus, hire an ambulance) to get to a doctor or a hospital for medical care, you may deduct what you pay for gas, oil, parking fees, etc., as a medical expense (subject to the general limitations on medical expenses deductions). Instead of the actual amount paid, you may deduct a standard mileage rate of six cents for each mile you use your car for medical purposes (in addition to amounts spent for parking fees and tolls). A similar rule applies to unreimbursed automobile expenses for services you render to a charitable organization, such as using your car to pick up old clothes for your church or collect funds for the cancer association.

Q. Do you have a free booklet that shows you how to fill out your tax return?
A. Yes. Contact your IRS office for a free copy of IRS Publication 528, "Information on Preparing Your Tax Return."

Q. My father can claim me as a dependent. Last year I earned $745 from a part-time job and received $10 interest on my savings account. Is it true that I won't have to file a return because I don't have $2050 in income?
A. No. A dependent who received $750 or more in gross income, which included unearned income (interest, dividends, etc.) of any amount, must file a return.

Q. I'm a farmer — I put a new roof on my barn last year. Can I deduct this expense or do I have to capitalize it?
A. Although repairs to depreciated property are deducted for the current year, expenditures that substantially prolong the life of the property or that increase its value or adapt it to a different use are ordinarily classified as capital expenditures that are recorded through annual depreciation deductions over the useful life of the property.

Q. Are union dues deductible?
A. Yes. Dues and initiation fees paid to obtain and maintain union membership are deductible.

Tax Declaration Due April 15th

If total estimated California State income tax for 1974 exceeds anticipated income tax withholding by $100 or more, you should file a declaration of estimated tax, the Franchise Tax Board said.

Instructions on how to file can be found on Form 540ES. These forms were sent to everyone who filed a declaration last year and others who, according to State income tax made a declaration. The first estimate installment for 1974 is due by April 15, the same date that 1973 State income tax returns must be filed.

Form 540ES is available at local State income tax offices for those who need them but did not receive copies in the mail.

Taxpayers who have not yet filed their returns should do so promptly. Taxpayers who fill out their tax returns early will receive their refunds sooner.

Returns prepared hastily as the deadline approaches, are more likely to contain errors than those filed earlier.

Taxpayers should verify their social security numbers, make sure their W-2 forms are attached to the face of their return, sign the return and use the pre-addressed label.

Income Tax Refunds are ready-made savings.

Your income tax refund is ready-made savings—ready to be tucked away as a nice lump-sum payment on tomorrow.

It's probably what you've had in mind all along, isn't it? Getting this far without missing the money, and then making sort of a giant step toward whatever it is you're saving for.

One of the easiest ways to make sure you really do it, of course, is to take your refund check and turn it into a Series E Savings Bond. (Or maybe several Savings Bonds!) Now E Bonds earn 6% interest, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity of only 5 years (4½% the first year). Your money is guaranteed safe—Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen. And, speaking of income tax, you may defer the payment of Federal tax on your E Bond interest until you cash your Bonds or they finally mature. (And the interest is exempt from state and local income taxes!)

So don't miss such an ideal opportunity to add to your savings. Turn your tax refund check into growing Savings Bonds dollars today. You'll be doing something nice for your future.

Caliente Horse Population To Top 800 by Month's End

Tijuana — Activity on the backstretch at Agua Caliente continues to increase daily with 400 Thoroughbreds now on the grounds in training and another 400 head due to arrive after April 1st, according to Jack P. Meyers, Director of Racing.

"We have received stall applications from numerous leading stables in both California and Arizona," Meyers said, "and by the time our racing program commences May 4th, the barns will be filled to the capacity of 1200 horses."

Meyers added that many stables will be shipping down to Agua Caliente at the conclusion of the current Santa Anita meeting and after stall assignments are completed for Hollywood Park.

The San Diego Chargers have signed their No. 2 draft choice, guard Mark Markovich from Penn State.

The signing took place in Los Angeles, where Markovich joined his teammate, Heisman Trophy winner John Cappelletti, at a press conference to announce Cappelletti's signing with the Los Angeles Rams. Terms of Markovich's contract were not disclosed.

Charger personnel director Tom Miner said Markovich has versatility. "He can play guard, center and snap deep on kicks."

San Diego has signed its first five players in the draft — running back Bo Matthews from Colorado, linebacker Don Goode from Kansas, Markovich, running back Bill Rudder from Tennessee and wide receiver Harrison Davis from Virginia.

League's Indecision Muddies Water

NBA Team Here Due in 1974 or '75 Franchise for One of Two Groups

John Mabee's group may end up with a National Basketball Association franchise for San Diego but the path is paved with intrigue.

Mabee, president of Big Bear Mares, said so. So did Bob Payne, chairman and chief executive officer of Continental Restaurants. Continental operates such restaurants as Jolly Ox, Hungry Hunter, Stag & Hound, and others. Payne and Mabee will head the San Diego group of eight attempting to acquire the franchise.

Paul Peterson, the group's attorney, also said so — and he's usually harder to pin down than that. There's a lot more intrigue in the group than they anticipated, it was said.

The group had expected to acquire the franchise when they attended the league meeting the week before. But there they learned, for the first time, that another group was in the picture. The second group is headed by Irving Levin, who is associated with Sam Schulman, owner of the Seattle SuperSonics. The Levin group would bring the franchise to San Diego.

The Mabee group has a lease with Peter Graham for the use of the Sports Arena. It is valid, Payne said, only if

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

When you get right down to it, the choice is really ours. We've cast our ballot often enough to build an image and if the wise guys in the front office can't read our style it's probably because they ain't looking.

This isn't a sharp stick to poke politicians in the eye with, this is about balloting in the great basketball campaign. Our votes are tickets and public support. Some get it, some don't.

Bob Breitbard got our ballot support with the Rockets. It was a hard sell, at first, but things picked up quick enough when Jack MaMahon took his sophomore squad to the NBA playoffs.

Of course, the Rockets had something going for them. They were in the right league, had colorful coaches who talked to reporters at every given chance and played in a facility that was a credit to the building trade.

There is no good reason to reshuffle Breitbard's tiff with taxes and tariff that sent the Rockets to Houston. That's all in the past and properly covered with the dust of time.

Averaged 6,700

The important thing to remember of the Rockets was their attendance record in the Sports Arena. Alex Hannum's so-so Rockets drew 6,700 average attendance during their final year here. San Diego was a beacon light in public support around the National Basketball League. No ONE has ever done better with an average team in a city of similar size.

With the Rockets gone, San Diego became an "open city" and cage invasions were threatened from every quarter. The rich pool of denied hoop fans event emptied Jack Kent Cooke and, the rumor goes, he attempted to extend his Laker broadcasts to San Diego in hopes of drawing local folks up to Laker games at the Cooke House in Inglewood.

Cooke would then, supposedly, claim San Diego as Laker territory and keep San Diego as Laker fan pool. Dr. Leonard Bloom threw a curve at those rumors by bringing the "other" league to our town. Bloom had a lot of plans, not many of which worked out, and Joe Cool Cage Fan voted Bloom's funny ball league and funnier name team out of order by a tremendous lack of support.

Even though he is a dentist, Bloom couldn't get Peter Graham to open up at the Arena and has been playing his funny named team games in school gyms and dance halls. The crowd count is done on the fingers.

The recorded vote is overwhelming in favor of the NBA. And so the moguls of the game look favorably on bids to return NBA play to our town.

John Mabee and Bob Payne, two local guys who started and built successful business in San Diego, who go back to the time when hamburger sold for under 40 cents a pound and that included their profit, gathered a group of similar local success stories and pooled a bid to the NBA for a home town owned franchise.

They looked like a lead pipe cinch to get the call, but sports owning is also a business and a couple of business guys in Los Angeles decided to invest their bucks in the San Diego fun and profit market, too.

Decision Due Next Week

That's where it stands. The NBA will decide sometime next week if and which group best serves their purpose in our town. In all big businesses, (a franchise tab is up to $6 million or more), hidden pressures often carry ballot weight. Rightly or wrongly the franchise could go out of San Diego for operation here.

But the final vote still comes from the ticket buying public. And the odds often shift away from success when friends and neighbors are slighted in favor of out-of-town speculators.

And sometimes a fan doesn't have to wait until the barn door has crashed behind his empty stall to effect his vote. The pen is mightier than a delayed ballot in some cases. This could be one of them. If you're inclined to support John Mabee (Big Bear Markets), Bob Payne (Continental Restaurants), Warren Wright (Guaranty Chevrolet), Jack Goodall (Foodmaker), George Pernicano (Mustache Cops, Chuck Ruane (Goodall's Bus), Mike Rogers (Continental Restaurants) and Carlton Sell (Real Estate) in their attempt to keep a San Diego franchise a local enterprise, a letter to the NBA might carry voting weight.

A note to NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy at Two Pennsylvania Plaza, New York, N.Y. (10001) would get your ballot registered. Who knows, your vote might start a trend. You might get professional sports moguls to start paying attention to the ticket buying public. And wouldn't that be a nice change.

Bike-A-Thon For SV Burn Clinic

Jones, a 7 footer from Albany State, was a key performer for the Conquistadors during February as the team won eight of 11 games in a comeback which could send them into the championship playoffs. Equally skilled on offense and defense, he hit for almost 16 points per contest and came through with an average of 15 rebounds.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CHANGE OF ZONE BOUNDARIES OR CLASSIFICATION

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Diego will hold a public hearing on April 3, 1974, at 9:30 a.m. in Room 310, Board of Supervisors North Chamber, County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, California, on a proposal initiated by the Planning Commission on behalf of Doris D. Tipson, et al, to reclassify all or part of the herein-described property in the La Mesa Country Club Section from the R-1 Residence Zone to the R-3 Residence Zone, or a Planned Residential Development of lower density, or a more restrictive zone in accordance with the Zoning Ordinance of the County of San Diego.

Said property comprises an area of about 6.2 acres, is irregular in shape, and consists of two adjacent parcels on the northerly and southerly side of Dale Road west of South Bonita Street. Pass Prop. 5 to Cut Pollution, Mills Urges

In June, Californians have an opportunity to do something positive about air pollution, the energy crisis and the need for public transportation, State Senator James R. Mills said this week.

Proposition 5, which he carried in the Legislature, would allow highway funds to be used to build public transportation systems and for pollution control, he said. "The Proposition is supported by business, labor, environmental and government groups throughout the state.

"The serious gasoline shortage in the last few weeks is only one dramatic illustration of the disastrous consequences facing a people who rely on the automobile as their primary means of transportation.

Since 1938, California has been restricted to using gas tax money only for highway projects. "While this limitation made sense in the 1940's and 1950's when the state had a need for a basic highway system, our most urgent requirements in the years ahead are different. Today we need flexibility to solve energy and transportation problems," he said.

Proposition 5 is devised to give voters in each county the say how they want their gas tax dollars used.

Decisions whether to build additional roads or highways, or to construct alternate transportation systems, could be made locally and not imposed upon any area by the state.

Residents of urban areas may want to have modern transit systems to help reduce smog and congestions, preserve limited fuel resources and reduce the number of highway deaths and injuries. Citizens living in rural areas, on the other hand, may prefer to have either high speed passenger trains or more and better roads, Mills pointed out.

"This proposition provides a choice. Presently, no matter how unique or desperate an area's transportation problems, gas tax money can only meet part of the need, and sometimes it's not the most important part. How can people benefit from a new highway if there's no gas available?

"Voter approval of Proposition 5 would also trigger new federal matching funds, re- turning to California more of the money we send Washington as federal taxes, thereby benefitting the construction business, labor, environmental and government groups throughout the state.

each state dollar," he said.

Man Kills Big Snake at El Cap

A 53-inch rattlesnake will brighten the trophy room of tax money only for highway projects. "While this limitation made sense in the 1940's and 1950's when the state had a need for a basic highway system, our most urgent requirements in the years ahead are different. Today we need flexibility to solve energy and transportation problems," he said.

McDaniels, with his wife, were hiking in the El Capitan reservoir area when they heard the snake. It had 11 buttons.

McDaniels, an old snake expert, warned hiking youngsters to be wary of snakes at this time of the year. The warm weather brings them out, he said, and they are ill-tempered until their hibernation sleep is over. They strike fast and far, often one beyond the position of their head. He killed the snake with a tire jack iron.

The San Diego Poison Information Center, in an advisory on snakes this week, gave this advice.

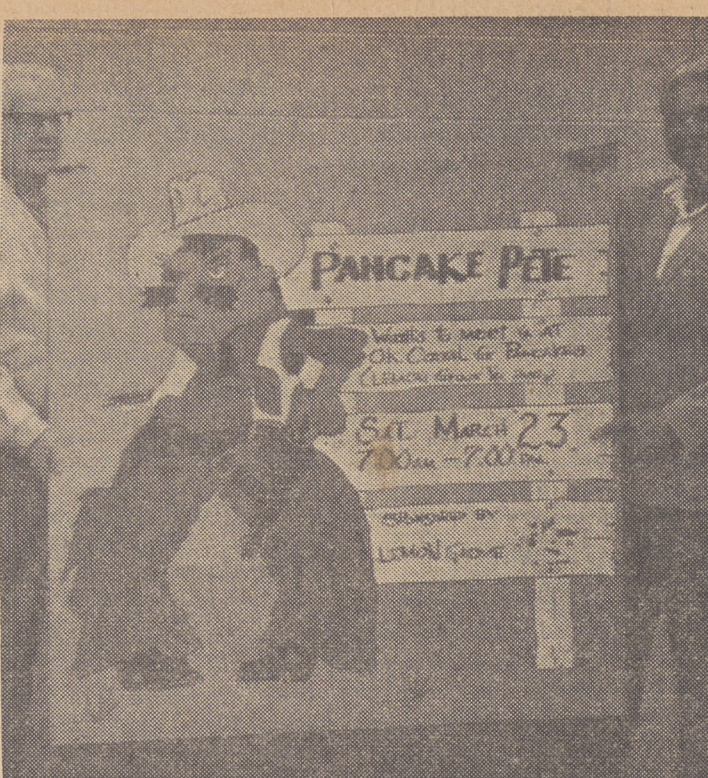

First immobilize the patient. He should remain still.

Send for help. Apply tourniquet above bite, lightly, to occlude venous circulation only. Do not apply tourniquet to fingers or toes.

Cool extremity if possible, until arrival at hospital.

Get to a hospital as soon as possible for anti-venom treatment.

Never travel alone in wild areas.

Dear Editor:
I feel the President is an honest man. However, I am not in agreement with all his decisions.

He should never have followed the Johnson policy of Viet Nam. He should have bombed Viet Nam his first year in office — thus saving many lives. He should not have allowed Kissinger to sign a treaty until Hanoi troops were pulled from all three countries, as that was what the war was all about.

However, I am proud he did work out the exchange of prisoners, for which we are most thankful.

We were sold-out to Russia in the forties by poor leadership, causing the split of Berlin. Russia's gain through the years was largely on U. S. dollars.

Mr. Nixon's answer regarding wheat to Russia, should have been definitely "no". Any talk bringing about an agreement with the communists, will benefit the communists, otherwise they would not agree.

After Vietnam, I question Kissinger's capability of dealing with the communists. I would say to Dr. Kissinger, he better have a good hold on his pants, or he might come home in his shorts.

It's Dance Time Again For Teeners

All is in readiness for the teenage dance Friday at the Lemon Grove V.F.W. Hall, 2885 Imperial ave., 7-11 p.m.

Teenagers between the ages of 14 and 17 are invited to attend. Tickets may be picked up at the VFW Hall, or by calling Sheila Neumeister, after 6, at 460-8444.

The dance will be well chaperoned. Volunteers and sponsors are asked to call Ms. Neumeister if they wish to support the dance program.

Phony Schemes Unmasked by BBB

The San Diego Better Business Bureau reports that two phony get-rich-quick schemes are circulating in this area.

The Alaska Pipeline project has provided one of the fertile fields for con artists. Alink Services, P.O. Box 1254, Fairbanks, Alaska, which offered attractive sounding job opportunities, has been subpoenaed by Alaskan authorities. Catherine A. Chandler, Assistant Attorney General for the State of Alaska, has asked citizens for information regarding any persons who have actually paid the $10 (registration) fee by mail or otherwise.

Job seekers contemplating going to Alaska for work on the pipeline are advised by the BBB that there are virtually no jobs available. Alaska now has about 14,000 unemployed — 10 percent of its labor force — and the number is climbing. For people with no promised job and little money Alaska is an extremely difficult place to live. Temperatures along the pipeline route normally drops to 60 degrees below zero in winter months.

The Bureau also reports that the Securities & Exchange Commission has taken a dim view of the interests offered by Strathmore Distillery Co., Ltd., and John B. R. Turner of Glasgow, Scotland. In fact, the SEC alleges the firm was trying to defraud U. S. investors in a nationwide offer to buy interests in casks of Scotch grain whisky. BBBs are cautioning the public concerning these investments, some of which are highly speculative.

Griffin Track Team To Face Tough Foe

Coach Ron Vavra's Grossmont College track and field team has rolled past its first two Mission Conference opponents, including Friday's 125-20 rout of San Bernardino.

The Griffins, who have won three dual meets against no losses this year, will find the competition a little tougher when they host Chaffey Friday at 3 p.m. The Griffins topped Glendale in a non-conference meet.

Grossmont has won its last 38 dual meets in a row, including 34 straight against conference clubs.

Most of the competition the Griffins figure to get in the conference race should come from Palomar and Citrus, although Chaffey has to be considered a darkhorse.

Greg Baer was the Griffins' big winner at San Bernardino as he took first place in the javelin, shot put and discus.

Kite Contest For SV High Flyers

Heavyweight Rod Bobick Headlines Coliseum Card

Heavyweight Rod Bobick of Bowlus, Minn., who claims several victories over his better-known brother Duane, will seek his 25th career victory Friday at the San Diego Coliseum at 13th and E streets.

His victories over his brother were in "alleys, the living room and in the yard." They have yet to meet in a ring.

Rod, 22, will also be trying for his 16th knockout in his entanglement with Mike Weaver of Pomona in the card that starts at 8 p.m.

Whereas Duane has been brought along slowly against hand-picked foes, Rod has fought more often and against a better grade of opponents. He has lost only three times in 27 bouts and in his last outing (Feb. 19) stopped former light heavyweight champion Vicente Rondon in two rounds.

He's a Brawler

Rodney Bobick is a straight-ahead, brawling type of boxer who takes two punches to land one. He has an excellent left hook to the body and gives his opponents little chance to move around by staying on top of them at all times.

When he first started boxing, Rod weighed 268 pounds, but has continued to drop his weight and in his last outing was down to 222 pounds.

Weaver has a 14-2 professional record and has fought a draw with California heavyweight champion Howard "K. O." Smith. A muscular boxer-puncher (he looks a great deal like Ken Norton in the physical department), Weaver is managed by Jerry Moore and is a stablemate of lightweight Jimmy Hear.

On Friday's supporting card are three other bouts.

In a 10-rounder, Manuel Elizondo, of Mexico will fight Bobby Stewart of Los Angeles. Both are light heavyweights.

In a 5-round featherweight bout, Felix Garcia of San Diego will meet Chino Gallegos of Los Angeles.

The closing bout is a 5-rounder with heavyweights George Gray of Bakersfield going against Mel Marshall of Oceanside. Gray is Norton's sparring partner.

Windmill Quits

Last week's fray between Ray "Windmill" White and Jesse Burnett, came to a surprising finish. Burnett was far ahead on points after scoring a knockdown in the second round from which White appeared to be recovering. Burnett caught White on the jaw with a right uppercut and floored him.

White, a clown, pretended to be unconscious but later jumped up full of life and fight. But he fooled referee George Latka. While White was on the canvas, Latka removed the fighters' mouthpiece as he started to count. White's performance was so convincing that Latka ruled him "out" at the count of three.

White stalked about the ring complaining, jumped the ropes and fled the building. But he returned to the warmth of his dressing room quickly and told reporters he was through fighting in California. He didn't blame ring officials. Rather sadly he said "they told me that my legs would be first to go. Hell, my legs are fine, it's my jaw that can't take it." If he keeps his word, Californians will lose a good showman. White, immensely popular, attracts good crowds with his "around the tree" his "ice tongs" punches, and others.

Extra Penny Added To Sales Tax Again

Californians will begin paying an additional one cent on the dollar in sales tax April 1, when the sales and use tax rate increases. The one percent increase will pour an additional $50 million per month into the state's coffers.

Notices were mailed to the state's 432,000 retailers advising them that the rate will increase to 6 percent. The 6 percent rate is comprised of the combined 4-3/4 percent state and the 1-1/4 percent local tax rates.

This is the third time within one year that the tax rate has fluctuated. The statewide rate was initially raised to 6 percent on July 1, 1973, where it remained for three months, reverting to 5 percent for the six-month period October 1, 1973 to March 31, 1974.

The Board is distributing to retailers a statewide 6 percent tax rate schedule which should be used in computing total state and local tax reimbursement.

The sales and use tax contributed over $2.1 billion to the State's General Fund in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1973.
